INTRODUCING BLOGS ON HRREPORTER.COM

Canadian HR Reporter has launched two new blogs. Jeffrey R. Smith, editor of our sister publication Canadian Employment Law Today, has started an Employment Law blog that begins with two posts: a look at a toxic work atmosphere: When Sales Push Comes To Shove, and romance in the workplace: Les affaires de la coeur — at work. And Canadian HR Reporter has teamed up with the Strategic Capability Network for a discussion board and blog that takes a look at Strategic HR. HR professionals are invited to share the insights of senior HR leaders and join in the discussion. The first topic is: Managing Talent in Tough Economic Times. As well, our Labour Relations blog continues with the topic: Straight Talk from the CEO, which looks at going around the union to communicate with workers during talks. Check out all three blogs at hrreporter.com.
